

STOOL YOKO

The professional bar stool Yoko in proven GO IN contract quality combines minimalist design with high everyday usability and fits anywhere from seminar areas to wine bars. The seat shell made of laminate-coated molded wood is available in three decors and brings a clear, modern line to different interior concepts. For the metal frame, Yoko offers maximum design freedom with steel powder-coated in black, chrome-plated steel, or matte brushed stainless steel. Despite its delicate look, the bar stool is extremely robust, suitable for contract use, and designed for intensive use in gastronomy and hospitality. Particularly practical in operation: the metal frame is stackable and enables flexible use of space as well as space-saving storage. In addition to the bar stool (92 cm), Yoko is also available as a stool (56 cm) – ideal for a consistent interior concept.

- Versatile planning: Three frame versions and three wood decors fit a wide variety of contract concepts
- Robust contract quality: Despite its delicate design, Yoko is built for intensive use in everyday gastronomy
- Practical in operation: The stackable metal frame saves space and simplifies reconfiguration
